No.2

Week ending August
20th 2005.

This Week's Window.

Cheryl's done it again! Another prize-winning window! This week's theme has been "Crown's and Jewels." Centre piece is a crown which Cheryl and I made one Friday night. Expect to see Mike wearing it as he sits in his big chair in the window...

Shire Books.

They've arrived!

The Shire booklets which are published in the UK, arrived last night. As noted last month, these booklets cover a multitude of subjects, from water divining, building rock walls, ancient poultry breeds, Victorian policing and many other topics.

More Best Sellers.

We've purchased another batch of best sellers. These include the blockbuster Martina Cole with Faceless and The Know. Lovers of uber-violence adore this writer who shows no sign of slowing down; Cole clearly enjoys what she does!

In complete contrast to the above, we have bought in many new children's books. We're getting quite a name for low cost, high-quality kids fiction and non-fiction. And remember, if you're buying on behalf of a school or a school library, we'll gladly give you 10% off your purchase price.

Website.

As noted last week, Mike's a confirmed Luddite (he owns FIVE manual typewriters and uses all of them!) we've decided to purchase a website. But wait! There's more! We've decided to put some of our stock from our private bin at home online, which means those of you who trade on Trade Me should see some of our wares.
